getting some water to those impacted by corporate and factory farming environmental damage is a good thing, getting the usual suspects off the hook to keep doing warm is no 'plan' fix the problems and I think you guys should stop pissing in the pool. You are not going to get the needed level of action from this gang of polluters you have running this collaborative. And why aren't you testing for pharmaceuticals in the water and bringing them in to pay some fees.
